Memorandum

April 29. 1955.

To: Dear Friend Block.

I have your nice letter of April 24. I'm pleased that at least one of the Baden stamps I sent to you was of interest. I shall keep you in mind always in this connection, and don't be surprised to be receiving from me, from time to time, some Baden cancels etc.

Yes, there certainly has been a flood of fake reprinted Honduran air stamps recently. As you say, some of them are very, very deceptive! I assure you, I am at your humble service, at any time, for an opinion on any of these items as I have the facilities and experience to determine their genuineness. Don't hesitate to call on me, at any time.

IRVING I. GREEN

Your deductions with regard the A 24 (Scott 1932) sheets of Honduras is correct. I have also

(SANABRIA)

HONDURAS SANABRIA 36d
By Irving I. Green

Refer to the Sanabria Catalogue, 1950 Edition, where you will find listed under Honduras, San. 36d, described as a triple surcharge with catalogue value of $15.00 unused. This description is indefinite, as San. 36 is already burdened with two surcharges, and the additional one is not indicated. Previous Sanabria catalogues were more specific and described the third surcharge as that of San. 39, surcharge K, printed on San. 36 in an inverted position and in black ink instead of blue.

If you own a copy of San. 36d and prize it, I am obliged to disillusion you because it is a forgery. The third surcharge is from a complete counterfeit setting of 50 subjects (10x5), dangerously similar to the genuine because it is composed from the same type. Fortunately, the forged setting contains certain landmarks in variance with the genuine and vice versa. The forged setting shows:

1. Wrong alignment in Positions 4, 14, 24, and 34.
2. "Sevricio" for "Servicio" in Position 10, although

The 1930 Air Mail Provisionals "A Comedy of Errors" [1]

By IRVING I. GREEN

Introduction

For a better understanding of this episode in the philatelic history of the Republic of Honduras, here, first, is some basic information concerning the organization of the national executive branch, the administration of mails, the production and sale of postal values.

The President is the administrative head of the Government. The six Departments comprising the Executive Branch, each under a Minister and Under-Secretary appointed by the President, are Fomento (Development), which includes Agriculture; Public Works, and Labor; Government made up of Justice, Sanitation, and Charity; War, Navy, and Aviation; Hacienda (Treasury), which consists of Public Credit and Commerce; Public Education; and Foreign Relations.[2]

The Departments of Development, Government, and Treasury are directly concerned with postal affairs. The Minister of Development is nominally responsible for the administration of mails, although he delegates this authority to a presidentially-appointed Director General of Posts. The Department of Government prepares and promulgates the executive decrees that authorize the production and sale of postal paper. This same
