R. Harrison, Esq.,

Chelsea,
London, S.W.3.

Dear Ron,

I enclose the blow-ups of four poses of our model,
together with the original negative.

I think that for the time being we must respect the opinion of our American friends, and continue to work on the New York girl plus her new heads. However, now that I have seen these enlarged prints, I think that they are capable of further development along the lines which the Yanks want. In particular, I think that if the girl had a rather more dignified hair-do, the print which I have marked with a tick on the back could well be developed into an effective figure. Perhaps we could talk about this next time you come up.

I hope that you are getting on okay with your work on the other girl. Without wanting to rush you in any way, I would like to be able to come back to the Americans fairly soon with your initial sketches.
Do you think that you will have anything to show me this week? In any case give me a ring and let me know how you are getting on.

Yours sincerely,

P.F. Orchard.
