COMMEMORATIVE CACHET.

VISIT OF SENATOR KING – 23 MARCH 1931.

The cachet – an elongated diamond (42x20 mm) with an inscribed central circle – was applied in blue to all mail passing through the Port-au-Prince Post Office between 0700 and 1700 on 27 March 1931.

Senator King of Utah had been an outspoken critic of U.S. policy on Haiti and his visit in 1927 was banned. After the fall of President Borno and then the withdrawal of the U.S. Marines the President, Vincent, made King a welcome visitor. He arrived with his wife on 23 March 1931.

HAITI

The President Stenio Vincent, 1931

5c. green (Yv. 264), 10c. carmine (Yv. 265)

1936, the 'Les Trois Dumas' issue

The issue of the three Dumas is particularly interesting as it was printed locally in lithography. It was quickly prepared on the occasion of the visit to Haiti of an important delegation of the French government to celebrate the three hundred years of the French presence in the Antilles. The 'three Dumas' are the General Thomas Alexandre who served under Napoleon, known as the 'Horace Coclite of Tyrol', and the famous writers Dumas the father and Dumas the son.

14 marzo 1946 - Serie emessa quando era al potere la Prima Giunta Militare; raffigura un episodio della battaglia di Vertières (18 novembre 1803), protagonista il Gen. Capois-la-Mort inviato da Jean-Jaques Dessalines a contrastare il Corpo di spedizione napoleonico comandato dal Gen. Leclerc: i francesi capitolarono di fronte ad un esercito di sessantamila negri e dovettero abbandonare definitivamente l'isola .
J. J. Dessalines si nominò imperatore con il nome di Giacomo I ed il 1° gennaio 1804 proclamò l'indipendenza di Haiti, ma morì nel 1806 in seguito ad una rivolta scoppiata contro di lui.
