On this sheet the accounting numbers on the selvedge are in a different order on the base stamp. The accounting numbers gave any easy guide to calculating face value either for selling multiple stamps or for stocktaking. This printing error is found on the Oradea Issue 2f Harvesters with Koztarsasag, so it may be part of the same batch supplied to Transylvanian Post Offices.

On usual sheets the order is:

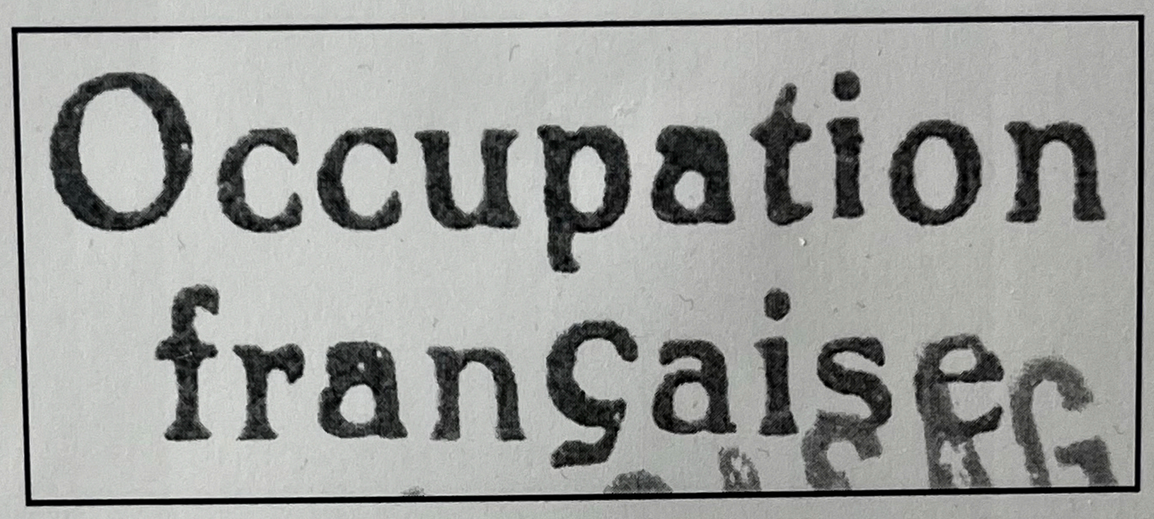
Position (I,6)

Purchased from Bob Palmer (7/15)



This Marginal examples show that unlike the overprinted surcharges on the harvester stamps, that the Thin Numerals we printed on the odd rows (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) and the Thick Numerals were printed on the even rows (2, 4, 6, 8, 10).

However this stamp is more important as the non-surcharged overprints at position I,6 have the distinctive Raised "O" with shaved top. However this stamp with its selvedge clearly identifying it from this position does not have this variety.

This indicated that the plates were taken apart and re-set for surcharged overprints, which is important in understanding the print order. It demonstrates that the surcharges stamps (45f on 2f harvester, 50f on 3f harvester, 10k on 1k parliament, and the Porto on newspaper) were probably printed at the end of the print run.

This is further supported by the fact that gap between the Occupation and Francaise is 1.6mm, the same distance as the second printing that Cserni identifies.

See also the 45f on 2f Harvester example from the same sheet position.

1919 Newspaper Stamp 30f on 2f "Porto"

On this stamp the gap between the "Occupation" and the "francaise" is 2.2 mm, whilst on all others of these surcharged Newspaper stamps the gap is 1.6mm. Cserni identifies these as first and second printing respectively.

This leads to the conclusion that a very limited number (perhaps only a few sheets) were produced with the wider split before (perhaps due to technical difficulties) the plates were reset at the narrow gap.
