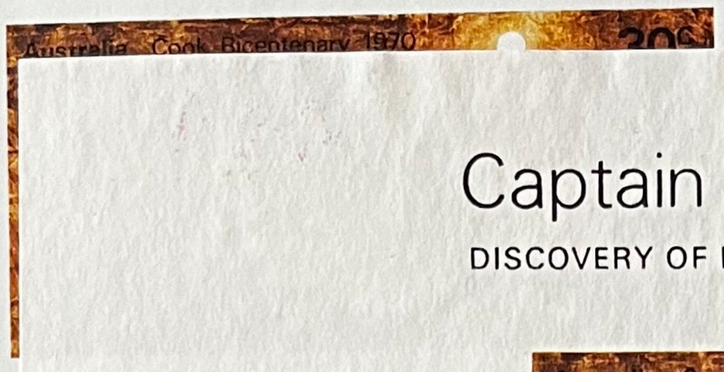
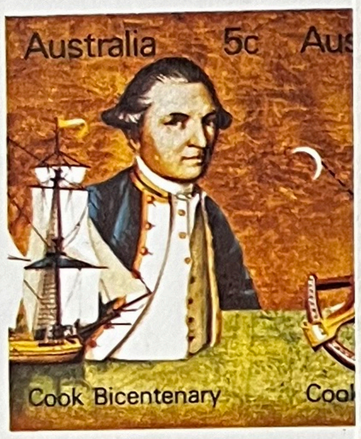
DISCOVERY OF EAST COAST OF AUSTRALIA IN 1770





Cook, giant among navigators, enters the Pacific . . .

Cook, giant among navigators, enters the Pacific . . .

and fixes the position of the eastern part of Australia . . .

where he finds new people and strange animals.

He and his scientists chart the shores and sketch the flora . . .

and sovereignty is proclaimed over the land discovered.

11 Atomic Absorption spectrophotometry depends on the absorption of light by atoms to determine the amounts of an element present in any substance. This modern analytical technique of world importance was devised in Australia

24 Radio Astronomy explores and maps the heavens by examining the radio waves emitted by stars, galaxies and gas clouds. Discovery & development of unique forms of radio telescopes have been contributed by Australia

33 The foundation of modern Immunology is the clonal selection theory, which explains how and why anti-bodies are made, occurring in organ transplants. This theory was devised and applied by Sir Macfarlane Burnet in Australia

48 Oceanography employs satellites which track free drifting buoys, tracing the ocean currents and transmitting data on physical and chemical properties of the water masses constituting the oceans and seas surrounding Australia

SOUTHERN CROSS

On 31 May, 1928, Australians Charles Kingsford Smith and Charles Ulm (co-commanders) and Americans Harry Lyon (navigator) and James Warner (radio operator) left Oakland, California in the aircraft 'Southern Cross' to attempt the first flight across the Pacific. Flying via Hawaii and Fiji, they reached Brisbane, Australia
