JAN 33 100

1355 (4)

A very interesting piece indeed!

The basic location is 31 32 / 41 42. However the numeral 5 in stamp 32 and stamp 42 do not plate in the full sheets of Scott C26 and San 33. All the other parts of the overprint plate and stamps 31 and 41 plate all over, including the 5's. Inasmuch as Scott C27 and San 34, the 15 centavos on 20 centavos basic was made under the same decree as the 5 centavos (Scott 26), and as the 5 of the 15 coincides with the position of the 5 in the above block of 4 of Scott C26a, there is a distinct possibility that the position of the 5 in stamps 32 and 42 was pushed to the right during the printing. All the defects in the type or flaws as found in the genuine C26 stamps are found in this block of 4 - so that I would call it genuinely doubled in spite of the different alignment of the 5's in basic stamps 32 & 42. Another factor contributing to its possibility of being genuine is that the impress of the overprint seems correct. Not heavy or showing on the back. Also the ink seems genuine. Forgeries are known (see my collection with a double "Servicioa" error N.Y.)

G. MARIN is R.D.M'

Bought from Clarence L. Storch - May 11, 1956 - Paid 35¢ for the stamp. The "Servicio2 éreo" error

It has a faked reprint. (Both reprints are U.S.) (dangerous forgery)

It has a Sanabria expertization which I believe is also faked. (right?)

Also it has G MARIN in magenta - R.P.M.'s (A real dangerous fake)

Probably it is the wrong basic Yes that this is very difficult to determine

Correct basic is B48. Also saw at same time the Servicio2 - ero with regular - with same faked reprint but looked as though it was on a different basic than the above fake Bad feature 1) Alignment off.

2) Wrong ink
3) Open O top of 930
4) Printing Coarser and smudgier
5) wrong basic position

(Interesting data)
San. says 100 of the overprint doubled error which means 2 sheets - As the servicio2-ero error only occurs once - B48 - to a sheet, there must be 2 of these errors doubled, thus it is of greatest rarity if genuine

Year alignment wrong but it is known to have been changed in printing
