CONNEMARA.

Errislannan Parsonage Building Fund.

ERRISLANNAN is one of the Parochial Districts restored to our Church by missionary labour in Connemara.

When the Irish Church Missions Society commenced its work, there was no place of worship, no school, and but a few Protestant inhabitants; now there is a church, three schools, eighty-six in communion with our Church (twenty-seven of these attending Church and Sunday-school, though their parents continue Roman Catholics), about sixty children attending the Scriptural schools, chiefly Roman Catholics, and Roman Catholic young men at night schools.

Since the work began many have passed into Heaven trusting in no Priest but Jesus, and relying on no sacrifice but the "one offering" which "perfected them for ever;" many are witnessing for the Truth in distant lands, and some are employed as Scripture Readers at home.

This has been the result in a district for many years not favoured with immediate pastoral superintendence. It formed part of the adjoining Curate's charge. The West Connaught Endowment Society, seeing the need of providing a minister for this interesting and increasing congregation, generously collected funds, and Endowed it with £75 a-year.

There being no residence for the minister in the district, he would be obliged to live in the nearest town, five miles from the church. The congregation therefore earnestly desired to build a Parsonage; one member—Rev. R. H Wall. D.D.—gave a free site, and a promise of £20. The house is now built and roofed; only the inside work remains to be done. Received, £294 16s 8d Expended, £295 17s 3d. Due W. Wall, Esq., £90. About £200 is still needed, December, 1867.

Extract from a speech of Dr. GAYER, Q.C., Ecclesiastical Commissioner.

Referring to Tuam diocese, he says:—

"There was another want in that diocese also which he lamented—the want of a sufficient number of residences for the clergymen. With God's blessing he trusted he would live to see the day when, having provided the pastors for their various flocks, they would provide houses for the pastors."

Reference kindly permitted to the Lord Bishop of Tuam, the Rev. H. D'Arcy, Clifden Rectory; the Rev. R. H. Wall. D.D., Errislannan Lodge; the Rev. H. C. Cory, 12, D'Olier Street, Dublin; John Burne, Esq., T.C., Lombard Street, Dublin, or Errislannan; Rev. E. J. HARTRICK, Belfast; and Rev. CHARLES SEAVER, Mount Pottinger, Belfast, who will thankfully receive Subscriptions.
