1. Peel and affix Section 1 (the section containing the barcode) to the back of the item.
2. Peel and affix Section 2 (the section showing the Registration logo on its own) to the front of the item.
3. Hand your item and customer receipt to an officer of An Post who will date stamp it and return your receipt to you.

N.B. This receipt is your proof of posting. Please keep it safe.

The regulations under which this receipt is issued are set out in the Post Office Guide (Eolaí An Phoist), which may be consulted at any Post Office. A special leaflet is also available at Post Offices detailing the Registration/Compensation service. An Post pays compensation subject to these regulations for the loss or damage of registered packets.

The amount of compensation payable is related to the registration fee paid which is based on the value declared by you, the customer, at the time of posting. It is imperative that the correct replacement value is declared on the receipt. Where no value is declared the minimum compensation of £20 will be payable.

When sending money of any kind, the use of Registered envelopes sold by An Post is recommended.

Compensation is not paid for any consequential loss, damage or injury arising from the loss, damage, delay, non-delivery or mis-delivery of anything sent by post.

An Post must be satisfied that the loss or damage occurred in the post, and that the declared value can be substantiated so that compensation for the replacement cost of the registered item can be paid. It is important that this receipt is retained as a claim cannot be pursued without the production of the receipt which contains the item number and states declared value of the item.
