

Shames Park Camp, Belfast.

27 March 1917

Dear Madam, Many thanks for P. 6, which I shall enjoy much. You, I recognized it as a ^{poetical} ~~poetical~~ or my way from the Station. I shall you liked the record, they are fine songs. I'll try and get you a card from my friends in ~~Sham~~, when next I hear from them, if it is possible. This is the case, when our letter is in the hands of. SC is called Shames Park and ~~border~~, and belongs to Lord O'Neill, it has some lovely gardens in it. I hope I have sent within, from your loving friend, Willie.

P.C. received, but don't you think this one would be more to the point; Nurse Black thinks you would not be far away in a case like this. What do you say?
I am still under observation in No. 2.
but miss your fatherly care since you went away. Hope you have got your legs well stretched by this time for indeed they would need it. S. Greger.

Dear John,

Thanks very much for

THE CALL OF THE OLD HOME FLAG.

To North and South and East and West, Wherever the Briton homes,
On lonely road or sheltered quest,
Whatever the toil he toils,
Today a call rings loud and clear,
That hailing no man may lag,
It stirs our hearts both far and near,
The call of the old Home Flag!
Red—for the blood that was shed for it Ere ever we saw the light,
White—for the men that are dead for it, Giving their all for its might,
Blue—as the sea that rolls under it,
Far as the ends of the world—
Flag of our race, with its cross of God's Grace, We hail it, our hope unfurled!
Wide strewed the Empire that we hold,
And never our work is done,
The chain that links us proud gold—
The love of a son for son,
And none may hear it and say it nay,
We are one in silk or rag,
Oh, sons of the Motherland, obey
The call of the old Home Flag!
